Dear Kory MacGregor,

Hi, I'm Bryce Gascho, we had a mock interview together last Thursday at Canby High School. The mock interview process was a very informative experience for me. The interview was really good for me and made me realize that it is not scary and should not be stressful. Thank you so much for your time to come out to Canby High School to help me and my other classmates. Also, I appreciate you for teaching me many things about how I should interview properly and what I did correctly and incorrectly during the mock interview.

This mock interview helped me learn that interviews are fun and easy to complete with a smile on my face. I learned that keeping eye contact and being myself is very important and helps show that I am focused and ready to work. You also taught me that I just need to have fun in the interview and pay attention. Before this interview, I thought I would stutter, mess up, and be too nervous, but now I know exactly what I need to do to stay calm and attentive. I know that I need to work on speaking a little more fluently and that I should use my hands when I talk instead of having them clasp together, or on my knees.

This mock interview experience has helped me so much and taught me a lot about myself and how the business world operates. In the future, I now know that if I be myself and stay calm, I will do just fine and will represent myself as a good candidate. I appreciate you coming to the school and helping me learn what interviews are like and what I can do to be the best candidate for the job. Thanks again for your time and commitment to helping me learn and making me a better person and candidate.

Sincerely,

Dear Kory MacGregor,

Hello Kory, this is Olivia Palacios. This last week we were able to meet for my mock interview at Canby High School. I wanted to thank you for taking your time to help me prepare for my future. I understand that you are a very busy person, as a business owner, and I'm sure it is hard to take off time!

During my interview you told me that you do interviews different than other people. You took the time to look over my resume and asked me numerous questions. I did feel very confident while interviewing, and I do feel most confident when I am talking. I do believe that there is always room for improvement, and do think I would like to be more prepared for the questions asked. According to your scoring on my mock interview feedback sheet you think that I need to work on my strengths and weaknesses; I agree. I appreciate the feedback you have given me.

This whole experience was an amazing opportunity to better myself for future interviews. I will be able to use the skills that I learned from the mock interview and your feedback. Thank you again Kory, I appreciate your time and patience.

Sincerely,

Olivia Palacios

Dear Kory MacGregor,

Hello Mr. MacGregor, this is Paxton Baker. It was great having a mock interview with you and hearing of your paintball experiences. I really enjoyed getting to open up about myself and you helping me with my first mock interview. I would like to thank you for taking your time and effort out of the day to come and prepare a mock interview for me and others.

I learned how a job interview will go and I feel much more confident doing a real job interview because of you. I really enjoyed spending time with you and learning how to improve for my real job interview. In our interview, I learned that keeping eye contact while I am answering a question is difficult for me to do. I also learned how to check myself and make sure I am fully dressed appropriately.

I really appreciate this experience with you because this managed to help me focus on what I will need to work on for a real interview and my confidence level will go up for my next interview. I enjoyed that you and I have a little in common and you could tell me about yourself and what it's like to be a boss of a company. Thank you for taking your time to come and help the students at Canby High School including myself.

Sincerely,

Paxton Baker

Dear Kory MacGregor,

Hello, Mr. MacGregor, this is Addy Crouch the sophomore at Canby High School. You thought I was very confident. We had a mock interview Thursday which included us talking about my career and what I do in high school relating to FFA and OHSET. I really appreciate you taking your time to come and interview me.

I learned so much from our mock interview that included getting advice to relate my resume around my career a little more and that it was unusual for a sophomore to be as confident as I was. I also really appreciate how you gave my advice and commented throughout our interview time. In our interview I learned that often I would give very detailed answers and that sometimes less is more. I really liked how you gave me challenging and in-depth questions, for example, when you asked me how my resume will get from the "applying pile" to the "want to know more pile."

This experience helped me feel more prepared for the future and job interviews I will have to do in order to get a job. I loved how I may have been nervous at first, but as we continued talking I felt very relaxed and comfortable with talking in our interview. Thank you so much for your patience, cooperation, and time once again.

Sincerely,

Dear Kory MacGregor,

Hello, My name is Audrey Ornelas and I met you during mock interviews at Canby High School on November 3rd. I appreciate the time that was given and enjoy how you decided to ask questions your own way and not follow what many others were doing.

The questions that were asked helped me realize that I could have had better answers and maybe even gone into more depth when answering the questions that you asked me. What I found interesting about this interview was that it was my first one and I didn't know whether I would do good or not. I learned that my handshake could have been slightly better; I also learned that my resume could be a little more cleaned up.

This experience meant a lot to me being that it is going to help me improve on many things. I can use the information you gave me for future interviews. I appreciate how kind you were and I felt as though it may be like that in a real interview. Thank you for taking time to come and interviewing me.

Sincerely,
